7 Attica Prisoners Are Accused in Latest Indictments

By FRANCIS X. CLINES Special to The New York Times

WARSAQ, N. Y., Dec. 19-Six more men who were inmates of Attica prison during of assaulting Harrison Whalen, dling the technical aspects of assaulting Harrison Whalen, the arraignment, he is receiving the asked. The cort here today actions to cort here today actions with the revolt, which began Sept. died as a result of state troop-surrection five days later. ers' gunfire during the crushing of the rebellion.

As the criminal charges in yers charged that the state had threatened, coersced and bought off." Attica inmates (Scott X) Dean, of having kidnapped a guard, Franklin Kline, and held him hostage. of immunity from prosecution This was the second day of against fellow prisoners.

Handschu of the Attica Defense Facility. led to the death of 32 inmates and 11 prison employes.

ty grand jury.

Grand Jury Meets

The grand jury, now in its some Attica guards have been on newsmen's calls, indicted, but there has been no In court, Daniel Po

yer. Most of them indicated than 100 suspects in one day had no way of learning of the have asserted. charges until today.

taken to cort here today, ac- 9, 1971. Mr. Whalen was later cused of crimes including kid-found to have died as a renapping a guard, slashing the sult of gunshot wounds suf-throat of a hostage and as-fered in the armed assault by saulting a hostage who later state police that ended the in-

Another Kidnapping

As the criminal charges in the special Attica inquiry continued to unfold, defense law-in order to get them to testify opening indictments here at the county seat, 15 miles from The charge, made by Barbara the Attica State Correctional andshu of the Attica Defense Facility. Prisoners arrived Committee, was rejected without comment by the office of early morning trips in vans Deputy Attorney General Robant First and Sheriffs' cars that moved

Again, young demonstrators from the Prisoners Solidarity tained 37 sealed indictments the courthouse, a handsome day of indictments for Otis Mc from a special Wyoming Coun-building in a rural setting that Gaughy, who complained to faces the town's Civil War Memorial, which is draped with Christmas boughs.

No heavy police guard was 13th month, met again today in evidence, and few townswith no word given on possi- folk have appeared at the ble additional indictments courthouse, although telephone There have been rumors that operators occasionally listen to official confirmation.

The men charged today brought to 18 the number of current and cormer convicts accused thus far.

Those recurrent and corner convicts for sealed indictments and the slow pace of the services. In court, Daniel Pochoda, an Those accused today ob, which are expected to take a tained adjournments until next week. Prosecutors in the past month in order to hire a law-have been able to gather more Wilbur Johnson was accused General Gerald Ryan is han-trouble of separate proceedings. the arraignment, he is receiving he asked. "Will I be back tooffice each day on which indictments will be opened.

Members of the Attica Defense Committee complain that such secrecy is unnecessary Thermoformisince most of the suspects aiready are in prison. They contend that the pace of the arraignment is being dictated by political considerations, emphasizing that Mr. Fischer is an appointee of Governor Rockefeller, who came under heavy criticism for his handling of the uprising and police assault.

But Mr. Ryan says there are numerous technical problems such as transporting inmates from various state prisons and arresting those who have been paroled.

Some inmates appeared comert Fischer, the special prosecutor who was named to investigate the uprising, which led to the double of 22 in the double of the special prosecutor who was named to investigate the uprising, which led to the double of 22 in the double of the special was a special to the double of the special prosecutor with the special prosecutor w raised fists in salute.

This was the second straight thaye had been in prison and when they chose to, the critics State Supreme Court Justice Carman Ball that there was no While Assistant Attorney need for the suspense and

"When's this going to stop?"

The judge responded: "You might well be."